Reflect, Review, Realign

"Successful investing is not about avoiding market cycles, but navigating them with discipline, patience, and perspective."

June marks an important milestone in the calendar year—the halfway point of 2026.

It offers investors a meaningful opportunity to pause, reflect, and review their financial journey so far.

The first half of the year has been shaped by evolving economic trends, inflation expectations, global policy developments, and changing market sentiment. Financial markets have moved through phases of optimism, caution, and periodic volatility, reflecting the dynamic nature of investing.

Market cycles are a natural part of every investment journey.

Market Cycles Change, Discipline Creates Growth.

A MID-YEAR PERSPECTIVE FOR LONG-TERM INVESTORS.

Markets move in cycles, shaped by global events and economic shifts. While short-term movements may create uncertainty, disciplined investing helps you stay focused on your goals and unlock the potential for long-term wealth creation.

STAY FOCUSED on your goals | STAY INVESTED through every cycle | STAY DISCIPLINED for long-term growth

> Markets may fluctuate, but a disciplined strategy creates stability.

FOCUS ON YOUR JOURNEY, NOT THE NOISE.
Discipline today. Freedom tomorrow.

Markets typically move through phases of growth, consolidation, uncertainty, and recovery. While short-term fluctuations often attract attention, they also serve as an important reminder that investing is a long-term journey supported by discipline, patience, and informed decision-making.

Mid-year is an ideal time to look beyond short-term market movements and revisit the bigger picture.

This is a good time to reflect:

- Are your investments aligned with your financial goals?
- Is your portfolio aligned with your risk profile?
- Are you maintaining a disciplined investment approach?

Successful investing is often supported by clarity, discipline, patience, and a long-term perspective.

This month's edition focuses on an important principle:

As investors progress through the year, maintaining perspective and staying aligned with long-term financial priorities becomes increasingly important.

Market conditions continue to evolve in response to economic developments, policy decisions, global events, and changing investor sentiment. These factors may influence short-term market movements and create periods of uncertainty.

However, market fluctuations are a natural part of investing.

During such phases, disciplined investing becomes especially relevant. Rather than reacting to short-term volatility, investors may benefit from focusing on key factors within their control—financial goals, asset allocation, investment discipline, and periodic portfolio review.

A thoughtful and structured approach can help support informed financial decision-making over time.

Successful investing is often not about predicting every market movement. Instead, it is about remaining patient, disciplined, and focused on long-term financial goals despite changing market conditions.

MID-YEAR INVESTOR SPECIAL EDITION

Mid-Year Market Outlook

Mid-Year Market Outlook: H1 2026 Resilience & The Road Ahead

The first half of 2026 (H1) has been a testament to the structural strength of the Indian economy. Despite facing global headwinds—including persistent geopolitical tensions, volatile crude oil prices, and sustained FII selling pressure—domestic equities have showcased remarkable resilience. This stability has been significantly anchored by robust domestic institutional inflows (DIIs) and unwavering retail participation through record-breaking SIP contributions.

As we transition into the second half of the year, corporate earnings growth and macro indicators continue to offer a stable foundation. For long-term investors, this mid-year juncture is not a time to time the market, but rather an ideal opportunity to review asset allocation, rebalance portfolios, and remain anchored to defined financial goals.

In 2017, we received one of the most heartbreaking calls of our professional journey.
A client, Mr. Raj, aged 45, passed away unexpectedly.
Mr. Raj was a successful Software Engineer earning approximately ₹25 lakhs per annum. Like many professionals, he had aspirations for his family—a comfortable lifestyle, quality education for his two daughters, and better financial preparedness for the future.

His financial profile was as follows:

Customer Name	Mr Raj
Year	2017	Incident Year
Age	45 years
Profile	Software Engineer
Annual Income	25 Lakhs
Liability	Rs.75 Lakhs	Home Loan, Car Loan and other loan
Other investment (MF, FD etc)	Rs 25 Lakhs
Wife	Home Maker
Childrens	2 Daughters	10 years and 6 years
Life cover	Rs.3.5 Crore

After the unfortunate incident, our immediate priority was to support the family during this difficult phase.

We assisted Mrs. Raj with the insurance claim settlement and guided her in clearing all liabilities, including the home loan, car loan, and other loans.
After clearing all liabilities, the family was left with close to ₹2.50 crore, along with a debt-free house.

The next important question was:
How could this corpus support the family's financial needs over the long term?
A diversified investment approach was considered with allocation across debt funds, balanced funds, and hybrid mutual funds, based on financial needs and risk considerations.

A Systematic Withdrawal Plan (SWP) was implemented to facilitate periodic withdrawals.
From 2017 onwards, the family has been withdrawing approximately ₹1.5 lakh per month to manage their financial needs.

Today, nearly eight years later, the family continues to manage expenses in a structured manner.

- Elder daughter is pursuing Post-Graduation
- Younger daughter is pursuing Graduation
- Family continues to live in their own home

Most importantly, Mrs. Raj continues to manage her family's responsibilities with confidence and dignity.

Key Learning

This case highlights the importance of adequate financial preparedness.

Mr. Raj's ₹3.5 crore Term Insurance played an important role in helping his family manage financial responsibilities during an unexpected life event.

We insure our cars, homes, and gadgets—but one of the most important financial contributors in a family is often the earning member.

Life Insurance is not an investment.

It is primarily a financial protection tool.

Adequate Term Insurance may help families manage important financial responsibilities such as lifestyle expenses, children's education, home-related obligations, and future financial needs during unforeseen situations.
